TAMIL NADU ENGINEERING COLLEGE DIRECTORY

Government & Government-Aided Institutions • 38-district reference for students

EEE-TN | Reference edition: October 2026 | Compiled from official TNEA / Anna University / Tamil Nadu government sources

How to use this directory

This directory focuses on government and government-aided engineering institutions that are relevant to the Tamil Nadu engineering-admission landscape. It includes a district-by-district index so students can see where entries are listed and where this directory has not identified a government/aided engineering college. A district with no entry here does not mean there are no engineering colleges of any type in that district; self-financing, central-government and university-constituent institutions are different categories.

Important category note

TNEA 2026 includes government colleges, government-aided colleges (including aided/self-supporting courses where applicable), university departments/constituent colleges, certain central-government institution seats and seats surrendered by self-financing colleges. These are not interchangeable categories. This directory labels the college type and keeps university constituent colleges separate from the main government/aided list.

A. Government engineering colleges

Institution	District / location	Type	Official website

Verify institution category, current admission participation, course availability and seat matrix against the official TNEA 2026 documents before making an application. The institution website is useful for campus-specific information, but the current TNEA seat matrix controls counselling choices.

C. District-by-district index (all 38 districts)

The index below lists government/aided institutions from the main directory above. Where no institution is listed, the entry is marked “No government/aided institution identified in this directory” rather than implying that the district has no engineering education options. Students should also check constituent, central-government and self-financing institutions separately.

D. Related public / university institutions to check separately

Some institutions that students may see in the TNEA process are university constituent colleges or university departments, not government-aided colleges. Anna University's official constituent-college list includes the regional campuses and University Colleges of Engineering at locations such as Arni, Ariyalur, Dindigul, Kancheepuram, Nagercoil, Panruti, Pattukkottai, Ramanathapuram, Thirukkuvalai, Tindivanam, Villupuram, Tiruchirappalli (BIT Campus) and Thoothukudi. Check the current TNEA brochure and seat matrix for the exact category and available programmes.

Scope and verification note: This is a curated student directory, not a legally certified or exhaustive list of every engineering institution in Tamil Nadu. Institution names, management classification, district boundaries, courses, admission participation and seat availability can change. Some campus names and websites may redirect or change; verify against the live TNEA 2026 portal, official brochure and current seat matrix before publication. The district index intentionally does not classify self-financing colleges as government/aided.
